

EXPRESSION OF WISH FORM

ROYAL MAIL DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PLAN

A lump sum benefit may be paid if you die as a member of the Plan (please see the Plan Guide for further details). This form is important as it gives you the opportunity to tell the Trustees who you would like benefits paid to. The Trustees have discretion when making this decision, but will normally follow your wishes. Please see the Completion notes on page 4 to help you fill out this form.

Who should complete this form?

You should complete and return this Expression of Wish Form NOW if:

- you have never completed one before; or
- you need to update a previous form.

If you nominate more than one person or organisation, please let us know the proportion you want to be paid to each. If an additional Dependant's Lump Sum of two times Pensionable Pay is payable, it can only be paid to your dependants.

Who can I nominate?

You can nominate one or more dependants or other people, including those who are not related to you, to receive your lump sums. You can also nominate certain organisations, such as a registered charity.

Any Dependants' Lump Sum can only be paid to one or more of your dependants. People who might be considered as a 'dependant' include:

- your spouse or civil partner;
- your children (including legally adopted children) and any other children for whom you are financially responsible prior to the time of your death but the child must be under age 23 at the date of your death or must be unable to support themselves because of physical or mental incapacity;
- any person who is financially dependent upon you, or financially interdependent with you prior to the time of your death.

The Trustees' decision as to whether someone is a dependant or not will be final.

How can I be certain that the Trustees will give the money to the right people?

The Trustees of the Plan have complete discretion when selecting beneficiaries but they will normally follow your Expression of Wish Form. One reason for disregarding an expression of wish may be where the Trustees are aware that your circumstances have changed, and you have not completed a new Expression of Wish Form to reflect this, for example where you have married/registered a civil partnership, or have divorced.

The Trustees might take account of any subsequent will you have written. Also, Court Orders can affect death benefit payments. Because of this discretion, any lump sum paid will not normally be included in your estate for inheritance tax purposes.

What happens if I have benefits from another pension scheme?

If the value of all benefits payable from all pension plans (including benefits payable on death) does not exceed the Lifetime Allowance (LTA) then there will be no additional tax for your personal representatives to pay. It will be the responsibility of your personal representatives to declare any benefits in excess of the LTA to HM Revenue & Customs ('HMRC') at the time payment is made.

If you have preserved benefits from another Royal Mail Group pension arrangement, death in service benefits from the Plan may be offset against any other death benefits payable from such arrangements.
